1. To charge the battery, connect the USB cable to a computer and then screw the threaded side of the battery into the charger. The LED button on the battery will flash 5 times and then go out and the LED on the USB charger will turn red indicating the battery is charging. When the light on the charger turns green, it means the battery is charged.
2. Your battery will require charging when the performance diminishes and the power button flashes rapidly, and does not power the atomizer.

PRODUCT CARE To ensure optimal battery performance, we advise that the battery contacts are regularly cleaned. Our electronic cigarette batteries contain micro-electronic circuitry and microprocessors. Users should store and handle these items with special care, and we advise our customers not to store their electronic cigarettes with metallic or magnetized objects, or electronic transmitting devices, such as keys and mobile phones and to avoid extremely high or low storage temperatures, therefore extending their lifespan and functional use.

WARRANTY All our products come with a 28-day parts warranty. Purchasers should be aware that our electronic cigarette atomizers and rechargeable batteries, although made to the highest quality are functional devices that may tail or degrade over a period of time.

Many users of the electronic cigarette also purchase 'spare' atomizers and batteries which can be found at www.totallywicked-eliqid.co.uk
